Dear Sir/Madam,

Subject: Collaboration in Academic Activities between Swadhyaya Research Foundation and The Department of Sanskrit, Sree Sankara College Kalady

I hope this letter finds you in good health and high spirits. It gives me great pleasure to write to you on behalf of the Swadhyaya Research Foundation. We have been following the academic activities and achievements of the Department of Sanskrit at Sree Sankara College Kalady with great admiration and interest. Our foundation shares a common passion for the preservation, promotion, and propagation of Sanskrit and allied Indian Knowledge Systems, and we believe that there is immense potential for collaboration between our organisations to advance these goals.

We are writing to propose a formal collaboration between the Swadhyaya Research Foundation and the Department of Sanskrit at Sree Sankara College Kalady. This collaboration aims to foster academic excellence, research endeavours, and knowledge dissemination in the field of Sanskrit and allied Indian Knowledge Systems.

Scope of Collaboration:

Our proposed collaboration would encompass a range of academic activities, including but not limited to:

Seminars and Workshops: We propose organising joint seminars and workshops on topics related to Sanskrit literature, linguistics, philosophy, and other allied Indian Knowledge Systems. These events will provide a platform for scholars, faculty members, and students to exchange ideas and knowledge.

Research Projects: We envision joint research projects that will encourage interdisciplinary research in Sanskrit and allied Indian Knowledge Systems. Faculty members and students from both institutions can collaborate on these projects to produce high-quality research output.

Faculty Exchange: To enrich the academic experience, we propose faculty exchange programs where professors and scholars from Sree Sankara College Kalady can spend time at Swadhyaya

Research Foundation, and vice versa. This will facilitate the sharing of expertise and teaching methods.

Student Projects: We would like to extend our facilities and resources to students of the Department of Sanskrit for their research and academic projects. This includes access to our library, archives, and mentorship from our scholars.

Duration and Commencement:

We propose that this collaboration commence from the date of this letter, July 25, 2018, and remain in effect until mutually terminated or revised by both parties through a formal agreement.

Benefits of Collaboration:

This collaboration will bring several benefits to both our organizations. It will enhance the academic reputation of Sree Sankara College Kalady and provide valuable exposure and resources to our foundation. Moreover, it will contribute significantly to the advancement and preservation of Sanskrit and allied Indian Knowledge Systems, which is a shared goal.

Next Steps:

We are eager to discuss the details of this collaboration further and formalize our partnership through a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) or any other suitable agreement. Our representatives would be delighted to meet with you at your convenience to discuss the finer points and modalities of this collaboration.

We believe that this collaboration has the potential to make a meaningful contribution to the field of Sanskrit and allied Indian Knowledge Systems. We look forward to your positive response and hope to embark on this academic journey together.

प्रणामः

Spiritual quests are either associated with or entangled in diverse exigencies aimed at the conscious development of self-identity. The Agamic tradition in simultaneity of presentation with the Vedas has more of a socio-cultural assertion than pure philosophical impact. Saivism embodies the true religio-philosophic experience involving the unique experience of the Highest Bliss. The path towards this experience demands the cognitive certainty of the three principles - Pasu, Pati and Pasa. Iccha, Jnana and Kriya forms the inalienable core of philosophical endeavour in self-sufficiency of human reason.

The present Seminar intends to bring out the specific assertions of theoretical perspectives based on Saivagamas. The philosophy entwined with Abhyudaya and Dharma will subject to serious discussions in this venture. 'Atmonnati' in every aspect of life is set as the final goal.

5 Days Faculty Development Programme in Natural Language Processing

Organised by Dept. of Sanskrit & IQAC, Sree Sankara College Kalady
In collaboration with
Karnataka Samskrit University
Kerala State Higher Education Council
Swadhyaya Research Foundation

About the topic of the programme

Natural Language processing, a component of Artificial Intelligence is the ability of a computer program to understand human speaking languages and for the interaction with humans. Natural language processing (NLP) is a field of computer science, artificial intelligence and computational linguistics concerned with the interactions between computers and human (natural) languages, and, in particular, concerned with programming computers to fruitfully process large natural language corpora. In Artificial Intelligence, a mechanism is required for the machine understandable natural language. Such a human speaking Language like English consists of several ambiguities that make it unsuitable for Natural Language Processing.

This FDP explains the importance of Sanskrit in the Natural Language Processing of computer programming. Sanskrit is considered because of its well-defined structure and unambiguous rules. This program is basically intended to introduce this cutting edge branch of ancient knowledge to the academic community of Sanskrit and IT.

The programme was conducted online from 17th August to 21. 45 students have participated in the programme. Karnataka Sanskrit University, Swadhyaya Research Foundation and Kerala State Higher Education Council have collaborated in this programme. Faculty for the training supplied from Karnataka Samskrit University. Technical and organisational support was established by Swadhyaya Research Foundation. KSHEC extended official and institutional recognition and support for the programme. Detailed schedule of the programme conducted is attached herewith

Title of the Seminar: Bharath: Ever aging Never Old. Decolonizing philosophy in the light of the Vedopanishadic knowledge tradition

Reference: F.No. 3-24/2020-21/P&R/ICPR dated 17.03.2021

The seminar in the title mentioned above has been organised by Swadhyaya Research Foundation, Sreemoolanagaram Post, Aluva, Kerala in collaboration with Sree Sankara College Kalady and Adi Sankara Training College Kalady. Seminar commenced on 03.05.2022 and wound up on 05.03.2022 following with Sree Sankara Jayanthi Celebrations on 06.05.2022.

Seminar was successfully conducted with a schedule attached herewith. Many papers in the themes Philosophy of History, art, epic, science and culture were presented. Many problems in these areas were addressed and tried to examine, resolve and explain them. Students, Teachers, Research Scholars and public have participated in the seminar and discussion as a part. Cultural programmes were conducted at the end of each day to reveal and experience how Indian philosophy was deeply enrooted in art forms. Each cultural programme was followed by a brief and precise introduction about their philosophical soul and background. We have collected 20 papers that felt good in presentation and writing to publish as a separate volume.

We humbly request you to kindly refer to the detailed schedule followed in the seminar for further details. Photographs are attached herewith. Other details with required documents will be sent soon.

Swadhyaya Research Foundation is a nonprofit organisation registered under Travancore cochin scientific literary societies act for fostering education, research and popularisation of indigenous knowledge system and resurrecting Indian heritage. It supports students, scholars and teachers in academic activities like conducting research projects, seminars and publication etc.

Swadhyaya Research Foundation in association with the department of Sanskrit, Sree Sankara College and Adi Sankara Training College, Kalady is organising a 3 day National Seminar entitled 'Bharath: Ever aging never old - decolonizing philosophy in the light of Vedopanishadic knowledge Tradition'.

Bharathiya civilisation has a long recorded history of philosophical, scientific and cultural moorings dating back to over five thousand years. Its richness encompasses every known discipline like science, literature, art, politics, technology etc. Bharatiya philosophy which is inalienably its identity as Bharath can be traced back to Vedopanishadic knowledge traditions, has been leading light among world philosophies.

Bharath which has a history of colonisation has systematically destroyed our glorious past. The colonizers as well as the later Indian successors were also opposed to our cultural ethos. While this was happening, the europeans invested their resources on scholarship on India resulting in European expertise on Bharatiya literature and culture.

As such it is time we changed this narrative and set the record straight, so that every Indian shall feel proud of our heritage and prevent our future generation drifting away from their root. This seminar is a step in this direction targeting teachers, students and researchers who form the base of the pyramid involved in moulding the set of future.

Advaita Vedanta being the philosophical representation of all beings illumines the nature of Truth unnegotiable among the multifarious appearances in the perceived universe. The true knowledge hidden within the covering of golden luster imparted by the ancient sages subjected to various interpretations from time to time. In the 19th century philosophical discourses a transformation in the formal presentation of Advaita was forcibly implemented due to the changing style of philosophizing. Truth is always beyond all artificial thinking and is difficult to identify. The present text Advaitasiddhi embodies the philosophical specifications in Advaita Vedanta with a much bolder, clearer and intelligent manner. The perspective of Advaita leads to a culture of thinking with difference where all differentiations find their concluding stature, where all logic reaches there definite goal, where all kinds of knowledge and cognitions precisely form there true essence. The text, in its introductory portion narrates the focal theme of Advaita polemics that deal with the falsity of the perceived universe. The true purport of scriptures pointing to the falsity of the world is made more clear by demonstrating the five kinds of interpretations by five different preceptors. These are graspable only with the help of eminent Scholars. For the correct understanding of the philosophical points highlighted in Advaitasiddhi, this workshop is organized.

We humbly welcome your esteemed presence throughout the session.
