National Science Day is celebrated as one of the main science festivals in India every year on 28th February to mark the discovery of Raman Effect by Sir C.V. Raman.

'Science and Technology for Sustainable Future' is the focal theme for this year's National Science Day celebration. Science and technology for sustainable future can be realized through international scientific co-operation where by knowledge is shared and distributed. Science can promote better and deeper understanding of the natural and human world. Technology can bring new ways of utilizing resources that can be human and climate friendly. The role of science and technology for poverty alleviation, for sustainable use of natural resources and for natural disaster reduction is beyond doubt.

Science Club, Sree Sankara College is organizing a Programme, 'SciTech – Green Tomorrow' as part of National Science Day celebration 2018 which spread over two days with an invited talk and intercollegiate Essay Writing and Elocution competitions.
