The Workshop

Heterodox Economics (HE) refers to the principles and analysis which are considered outside the mainstream or orthodox schools of economic thought. Schools of HE include socialism, Marxism, Post-Keynesianism, Institutionalism, Evolutionary Economics, Feminist Economics and Green Economics. Exposing our students to these streams of ideas, which are increasingly becoming popular is critical for their academic and intellectual growth. Hence, the newly constituted PG Board of Studies in Economics, Mahatma Gandhi University has rightly introduced a course on HE in the third semester of MA Programme (2019 onwards). The course primarily aims at introducing a set of economic concepts with a critical outlook, that concentrates on philosophical and methodological considerations with both microeconomic and macroeconomic perspectives. The Workshop aims at familiarising our students and teachers with this oft neglected stream of ideas in Economics. It aims at building a better understanding of different schools of HE with a special focus on emerging trends and practical applications.
